

INSECTS IN ACTION

In the spring and summer, all kinds of insects come out where you can see them. And they do all kinds of interesting things. Go on an insect hunt and see what buggy action you can find. Place a check mark next to each insect behavior you see and draw a picture of it. Use a field guide to help you identify each insect. (See example below.)

Keep a Record!

Date _____ Time _____
 Location _____ Weather _____

Helpful Things to Take Along

- Crayons or colored markers Insect field guide.

Chewing

type of insect: caterpillar

Flying

type of insect:

Pollinating

type of insect:

Nest-Building

type of insect:

Hiding

type of insect:

Swimming

type of insect:

Crawling

type of insect:

Self-Defending

type of insect:

