What You Do:
1. Color a tennis ball with black marker so that just some of the yellow shows through.
2. Use the pattern to cut the wings out of brown felt. Cut the beak out of brown fun foam.
3. Glue a large brown pom-pom onto the tennis ball to make the duckling’s head. Glue two googly eyes and the beak onto the head. Then glue the wings onto the tennis ball. Let dry.
4. Cut a “pond” shape out of blue fun foam. Use a black marker to draw a star in the middle of the pond and an inner ring a couple of inches from the edge.

How to Play:
- Drop your wood duck into the pond.
- Score 5 points for hitting the star; 2 points for landing within the inner circle; and 1 point for hitting the outer edge of the pond.
- The person with the most points after five “jumps” wins.
